Christ's Church of Flagstaff is pleased to announce a new partnership with Kinney Construction Services. 928 Central is a program operated by Christ's Church of Flagstaff that comes alongside the incredible non-profit agencies in Flagstaff who serve so many throughout Northern Arizona. Thanks to the generosity of those at KCS, 928 Central will expand its operations into the Kinney Construction Services building in downtown Flagstaff, which will greatly increase our capacity to support the amazing Flagstaff non-profit community.

Tim Kinney, founder and CEO of Kinney Construction Services — “We are thrilled to partner with Christ's Church of Flagstaff in meeting the needs of the most vulnerable in Flagstaff. CCoF and KCS both have a long history of supporting non-profit work in Flagstaff and we are pleased to support CCoF in this fantastic and badly needed effort to increase the resources and volunteers for Flagstaff's non-profits.”

Senior Pastor Chris Reed — “This generous gift from Tim and KCS is going to help 928 Central further advance collaboration between all participating Northern Arizona non-profits. Inspired by our vision to authentically serve our community and to find common ground for the greater good, 928 Central seeks to be a force multiplier in the work that our local non-profits are already doing. Many thanks to Rich, Tim, Mike and the whole team at KCS.”

Press Release

Flagstaff, AZ – June 3, 2021

For Immediate Release: 6/3/21

Kevin Yoakum, who is in charge of the day to day work of 928 Central – “I am excited to be a part of this incredible opportunity to serve the Flagstaff and greater Northern Arizona’s non-profit community! We are so thankful for the support from Tim Kinney and the rest of the KCS family in continuing this effort to serve the local executive directors, boards, and clients of each non-profit who do so much good! I am looking forward to a productive partnership!”

Former Mayor Coral Evans – “As a lifelong resident of Flagstaff, director for several neighborhood associations, four-term City Council member, and former Mayor, I understand better than most how critical our non-profits are to the vitality and resiliency of the Northern Arizona. I have spent most of my career working to better the lives of the citizens of Flagstaff and Northern Arizona. One thing I recognize that is universal across the country; it is a constant struggle for non-profits to get the badly needed funds and resources to meet their missions. Christ’s Church of Flagstaff has many years of partnering and supporting non-profits in Flagstaff. It is wonderful to see them stepping up once again. Their work to serve the community, greatly increase the resources and support for the non-profits shows bold and innovative leadership.”
